GET A GOOD LIFE PRESENTED BY:
MICHAEL KENDRICK

Are we more focused on disability and filling time- searching for mere activities rather than finding out who people really are, who they might be, and how they might find their places of contribution and belonging within their community?

Where are we going with our Planning, our Vision, our direct support dollars, and our good intentions of bringing about a good life for and with a person with a disability?

BUILD NATURAL SUPPORTS PRESENTED BY:
ERIN SHELDON

How do we foster reciprocal relationships for our loved ones with their peers, classmates, neighbours, co-workers, acquaintances and other community members?

REGISTRATION:

$30 for both workshops
$20 when registering for a single workshop

INFORMATION

Presenters:

Michael Kendrick PhD is currently an independent international consultant in human services and community work. He is well known in Ontario with his clear, incisive style and his ability to make all of us think more deeply and to “imagine better”. His interests, involvements and writings have included leadership, service quality, the creation of safeguards for vulnerable persons, social integration, change, innovation, values, advocacy, the role of individual persons and small groups in creating advances, evaluation, alternatives to bureaucracy, personalized approaches to supporting people, and reform in the human service field amongst others. He also writes quite extensively and his publications are available upon request.

Erin Sheldon MEd is a dynamic mother of two beautiful daughters. Her passions are grounded in social justice, diversity and inclusion; particularly inclusion as it pertains to community and education. Her curiosity, drive and passion for nurturing a welcoming world for her daughters resulted in her completing her Masters in Education. She has applied her knowledge and intuition in a variety of ways to promote her daughters' education, sense of belonging within the school and community environment, nurturing friendships and the use of technology to promote learning, and communication. Erin is a well known and respected speaker on the topics of Alternative & Augmentative Communication, Literacy Instruction for students with significant disabilities, and Inclusive Education.
